WELCOME COMMENTS FROM YOUR BG PRESIDENT...

Three hundred ten people gathered in the Washington DC suburb of Fairfield, Virginia, for the 2023 combined bomb group reunion and enjoyed another memorable event. The 464th BG had a strong showing at this year's reunion with forty-three members in attendance. Ten members of the Robert W. Hornbaker family, eight members from the Alfred R. Karow family and two from the Robert A. Jenoir were in attendance, some attending their first reunion.

Reunion attendees toured the Army Museum and the Steven F. Udvar-Hazy Air and Space Museum on Friday. On Sunday Captain Cairns led a very moving memorial ceremony at the Air Force Memorial before the group toured Arlington National Cemetery and the World War II Memorial on the Washington Mall.

We were honored to have

Philippe Castellano, President of the French Aéro-Re.L.I.C. attend as our guest this year. A longtime friend of the 464th BG, Philippe presented a remarkable video documentary of the three Liberators lost in southern France on the May 25th, 1944 mission to Givors in preparation of the D-Day invasion. Plans are being formulated for the 80th anniversary in Cannes, France.

Carol Lee from the 465th BG presented an excellent trip report on her travels to Italy representing the 464th and 465th Bomb Groups at the unveiling of a memorial plaque in Loconia, Italy remembering the airbase at Pantanella. Together our groups donated to the memorial plaque coordinated by the Italian Airforce. Several members from our group plan to be in attendance at the annual memorial ceremony next June 12th in Loconia, just outside Pantanella.

Philippe Castellano and his wife Natalie from France talk with Army veteran Tom Jenior, brother of Robert Jenior who was lost in the May 25th, 1944 crash over southern France. Philippe also reminisced with members of the Hornbaker family whose uncle Robert Hornbaker perished on the same mission. Alfred Karow was one of two survivors from the third plane downed that day over southern France. Philippe was able to reconnect with several members from the Karow family.

Forty-three members from the 464th Bomb Group attended the four-day combined group reunion at the Westin Washington Dulles Airport Hotel in Fairfax, Virginia, October 12th thru October 15th, 2023. In all three hundred and ten people attended the combined group banquet Saturday evening enjoying the music of the DC Three for after dinner entertainment. Though no 464th BG veterans were able to attend, WWII Army veteran Tom Jenior, brother of 464th BG veteran Robert Jenior, represented the greatest generation.

Washington, D.C. Reunion Saturday, October 14, 2023 Business Meeting Minutes

The 464th Bomb Group Business Meeting was called to order October 14th at 8 AM by President Tom Will with a total of fourteen members and guests present. The group met early due to the 9 AM start of large group presentations, with two of our guests on the morning schedule. Special guests Philippe and Nathalie Castellano, Carol Lee, and veteran Tom Jenior and son Jeff were introduced and shared stories along with other bomb group members and guests.

Carol Lee reported on her June 12, 2023 visit to Loconia, Italy representing the 465th BG for the dedication of monument to the 15th AAF at Pantanella. Carol expressed the gratitude of Tommy Caporale for the 464th & 465th bomb group's $1,000 donation for the granite memorial plaque Tom Jenior spoke of his brother Robert Jenior and of B-24 Lucky Lady, that went down May 25, 1944 in Cannes, France and about luck that led him to Evelyn Pei of Lyon University who then connected him with French recovery specialist, Philippe Castellano. Remarkably, the chaplain in Lyon, France was from Tom's US hometown and Philippe provided Tom with letters. Coincidentally, Philippe had known Betty Karle, the former 464th Historian and sister to Capt. John H. James, pilot of Little LuLu.

Research by Philippe Castellano touched two families of the B-24 Strictly From Hunger, Robert S. Hornbaker and Alfred R. Karow. Eight members of veteran Alfred R. Karow's family attended the reunion, and his daughter

Laura told parts of her father's story. He was one of two survivors of the downed B-24 Liberator Strictly From Hunger. He was captured by the Germans, sent to prisoner of war camp where he was the 'unofficial librarian', and ultimately liberated by Patton. The pilot, Captain Robert Hornbaker, did not survive the crash, but ten members of his family attended the reunion and spent time with 464th BG member.

Jim Horsemen spoke about his father, a top turret gunner aboard B-24 Hells Bells, and was interested in more information about the ship. Tom Will explained the 464th website is available for Jim to use. Joe Osentowski remembered his dear friend, Tom Pelosi of the B-24 Black Charlie, and that he was able to get a photo of Tom and the crew along with a footlocker, from Tom's niece. Teresa Karazim spoke of her father and his Pistol Packin' Mama crew who completed fifty-one missions. Dan Krynovich remembered his father, George, pilot of Pistol Packin' Mama.

Tom Will, son of Carl Will of B-24 Little Lulu, shared his father's story after returning from his fifty missions in Italy. Carl Will was a radio operator and was sent to the China-Burma India conflict flying and driving 'The Hump' to deliver gasoline to the Chinese army. Carl is currently living in northeast Ohio.

The treasurer's report was given by Garrett Hass denoting generous donations. The reunion was considered another great success.

Respectfully submitted, Jan S. Engle

464th BG Presentation to Combined Bomb Group Members

Here's a little background on Philippe Castellano, President of the Aéro-Re.L.I.C. Philippe spent a lifetime researching WW II airplanes lost in southern France. His website Aéro-Re.L.I.C. (aero-relic.org) has a lot of information on the bombers and fighter planes lost defending France. He is a recognized country expert and contributor to the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA), an agency within the U.S. Department of Defense whose mission is recovering American military personnel listed as prisoners of war or missing in action. A resident of Cannes, France, Philippe helped establish memorials at the three crash sites and reconnected veteran families with the stories of those lost planes and souls. Philippe working with the Mayor of Cannes the city is planning an 80th anniversary memorial ceremony of the downing of the three Liberators over southern France. Several members from our group plan to attend the Independence Day, July 4th, 2024 French event.

“Flying the Last
Sortie...
Missing from our ranks but never ever forgotten”

Plan to join us in October for the 2024 Bomb Group reunion to help us remember and pay a fitting tribute to these great men just recently added to our Last Sortie List.

An Airman's Prayer by Chaplain John Eastwood

God guard and guide us as we fly through the great spaces of the sky; Be with us as we take to air in morning light and sunshine fair. Eternal Father, strong to save, Give us courage and make us brave; Protect us whereso'er we go, from shell and flak and fire and foe. Most loved member of our crew, ride with us up in the blue. Direct our bombs upon the foe but shelter those whom Thou dost know. Keep us together on our way, grant our work success today. Deliver us from hate and sin, and bring us safely down again. O God protect us as we fly through lonely ways across the sky.

The Missing Man Table

Honoring and Remembering Heroes

The 15th AAF sustained 18% of the Army combat fatalities. It lost 3,364 aircraft and 21,671 personnel killed, wounded, missing and taken prisoner -- 20,430 bomber crewmen and 1,187 fighter pilots. The Fifteenth fought four broad campaigns: against enemy oil, enemy air force, enemy communications, and enemy ground forces. Lest we never forget the supreme sacrifices of the 'Greatest Generation' securing the freedoms we all enjoy today.

A Business Update from Our Bomb Group Treasurer

We had another fun reunion in Washington! Going to the World War II memorial, Arlington and White House were my favorite events. The reunion is a break even on reunion registration fees and reunion meals with the exception of the complimentary 464th Saturday luncheon. The group had a small net loss for 2023 due to the one-time expenses around supporting the bomb group memorial plaque in Italy. The group had $3,935.43 cash on hand at the end of the year. Financially we are doing a good job balancing our payments. A big thank you goes out to Sharon Goode and Paula Archazki for doing such a wonderful job keeping track of our business financials. Donations support the newsletters, website, reunion registration mailings, the 464th BG Saturday luncheon, group dinner extras and supplies and miscellaneous expenses – donations are necessary and greatly appreciated. Currently we have collared shirts, mugs and the 15th Air Force wooden plaques for sale. Contact Tom Will, Sharon Goode or myself if you need one. Get ready for 2024 as we head to Tucson, Arizona, a city rich with heritage and air force points of interest! We hope to see everyone there!

Financial Notes: Registration fees collected and reunion meals and tour costs normally break even with the exception of the 464th Saturday luncheon which is a cost to the Group. This year the group covered registration fees for our invited French researcher guest and veteran Tom Jenior. The Group also had a one-time expense with a donation to the Italian Pantarella airbase memorial plaque. Donations are necessary and very much appreciated!

Pantarella Airfield Legend Lives on Today in Italy (see article page 7)

In the eighteen months of existence the Fifteenth Air Force, operating principally from the complex of airfields in southern Italy, destroyed all gasoline production within its range in southern Europe; knocked out all the major aircraft factories in its sphere; and destroyed 6,282 enemy aircraft in the air and on the ground. The Fifteenth crippled the enemy's transportation system over half of once-occupied Europe with repeated fighter and bomber attacks. On occasion it helped disperse enemy counter attacks and spearheaded the advances of our own armies. The Fifteenth dropped 303,842 tons of bombs on enemy targets in nine countries of Europe, including military installations in eight capital cities. Its combat personnel made 148,955 heavy bomber sorties and 87,732 fighter sorties against the enemy. Most vital of the Fifteenth's oil targets was the Ploesti complex of refineries, which contributed about 30% of the entire Axis oil supply and an equal amount of gasoline. Ploesti was protected by 150 first class fighters and 250 heavy flak guns when the Fifteenth began a series of attacks against it. The Fifteenth bombers flew 5,287 sorties, dropping 12,870 tons of bombs. The cost was 237 heavies, 10 P-38 dive bombers and 39 escorting fighters. More than 2,200 American Airmen were lost. But the overall results were good. At the end of the campaign the refineries were reduced to only 10% of their normal rate of activity.

B-24: The Forgotten World War II Bomber?

The B-24 Liberator wasn't as beloved as the B-17 Flying Fortress, and she didn't make the literally earth-shattering history of the B-29 Superfortress. But nonetheless, the B-24 Liberator heavy bomber was still a key contributor to the Allied aerial victory during WWII. The B-24 Liberator made her maiden flight on December 29, 1939, introduced into operational service in 1941. Built by Consolidated Aircraft of San Diego, California the B-24 carried a crew of up to 10: the pilot and co-pilot, the navigator and bombardier, who could also double as nose gunner, the radio/radar operator, who sometimes doubled as a waist gunner, the flight engineer, who operated the upper gun turret and up to four crew members who could be located in the waist, operating waist guns, a retractable lower ball turret belly gun, and a tail gun turret. A B-24 could reach 290 miles per hour and carry a 5,000-pound bomb load for 1,700 miles, giving it a longer range, greater speed, and a bigger payload than its B-17 cousin. The most infamous B-24 mission was Operation Tidal Wave, the August 1, 1943, bombing raids against 'Hitler's gas station,' the oil refineries at Ploesti, Romania, supplying 50 percent of Nazi Germany's fuel. Instead of the typical high-altitude attacks this daring mission would conduct attacks from a mere 200 feet of elevation. The attack resulted in the elimination of 46 percent of the total annual production at Ploesti. By the end of the war B-24 bombers were being produced in Willow Run, Michigan at a Henry Ford plant, shown at the left, at the rate of one B-24 every hour. By the end of the war a total 18,482 B-24 Liberators were produced for the war effort.

Pantanella Airbase Remembered by 464th Bomb Group

After visiting our website, Mr. Tommaso Caporale from the Canosa Di Puglia province in Italy introduced himself to us almost two years ago. His grandfather was the lead engineer responsible along with the Army Corp of Engineers for constructing the Pantanella, Italy, airbase used by the 464th and 465th Bomb Group B24 bombers during the war. Through the tireless efforts of Mr. Caporale, and Ltg. Francesco Di Pinto, section head of the Aeronautical Army Association, a permanent marker was constructed in Liconia recognizing the importance of the Pantanella airbase in the liberation of Europe. Working with Mr. Caporale and Ltg. DiPinto, our bomb group supported the effort to make the permanent memorial a reality. Together the 464th and 465th Bomb Group associations donated to the permanent memorial plaque.

On Monday, 12 June, at the hamlet of Loconia (Canosa di Puglia), a commemoration was held in memory of the tragic accident of 1 March 1945, in which 30 people lost their lives, including 9 citizens of Canosa di Puglia between the ages of 16 and 19 years and 21 American Army soldiers who worked at the ammunition depot of the Pantanella airport. After the speaker read a brief historical note of the tragedy, the ceremony began with the flag-raising and the National Anthem. This was followed by the unveiling of a commemorative plaque by the President of the Canosa Section, Lieutenant (ca) Francesco Di Pinto and Mrs. Carol Lee, widow of the American veteran Orren J. Lee, at the time of the explosion in service at the Pantanella airport. On the plaque, positioned on a stone boulder and, subsequently, blessed by Don Nicola Caputo, is engraved the following inscription: "A perennial memory of the victims of the work of March 1, 1945, at the Pantanella airport base of the 464th and 465th Squadron Bombers of the 55th Wing. Loconia, 12 June 2023".

In his speech, Lieutenant Di Pinto highlighted: "In order not to allow time to make their sacrifice fall into oblivion, the Associazione Arma Aeronautica – Aviatori d'Italia Sezione di Canosa di Puglia, has strongly desired the creation of a memorial stone with a plaque in perpetual memory of the aforementioned lives accidentally perished during the preparation of operations related to the execution of missions aimed at establishing peace".

Carole Lee from the 465th Bomb Group, her son, daughter, and son-in-law attended the memorial unveiling and dedication ceremonies on behalf of the 464th and 465th Bomb groups. Though unable to attend this past June several members from our bomb group plan to make the trip to Italy for the first anniversary ceremony on June 12th, 2024. Anyone interested in joining our delegation should reach out to us for details.

The 464th BG Association Role Today...

The mission of the 464th Bomb Group is to recognize and honor the service of the brave men who answered the call of duty during World War II and served their country so valiantly in the 15th Army Air Corp based in Pantanella, Italy. Bomb Group reunions were started in 1955 first by the 778th Squadron and then in 1968 expanded to include all four flight squadrons and Headquarters operations. To date nearly forty reunions have been held in cities from coast to coast and points north to south. Hosted by veteran families, reunions are always a fun gathering affording veterans and families the opportunity to share their stories and friends a chance to learn about war time experiences. But most importantly reunions honor and thank our veterans. Bomb Group newsletters work to foster communications and connect with those not able to attend the reunions.
